PROJECTS

Library Simulator - Independent Programming Languages Final
Languages and Tools used: Java, JavaScript, GBD Online Debugger

- Created a program that utilizes polymorphism to simulate a library by borrowing and returning different media items (books, magazines, movies) combining both inheritance and composition.
- Served as a solo project which further enhanced my understanding of polymorphism as well as implementation of pure functions with the integration of JavaScript.
- Presented project orally and through slide presentation to professor and peers
